PROGRAM NOTES

You will notice numerous schedule changes in the program guide this month, predicated by the moving of the nightly International News from 7:00 back to 6:30pm. This results in many minor and major schedule changes and we suggest you read the guide carefully to relocate your favorite programs -- none of them have been discontinued.

July's schedule includes the initiation of a new program of local news commentary Tuesday nights at 10:30. There are two programs dealing with Initiative 13, including a live debate with representatives from two opposing factions and a commentary by representatives from Women Against 13. Programs dealing with energy issues include speeches by Amory Lovins and Sym Van der Ryn, a documentary on the Trojan Trials, and excerpts from the Regional Energy Planning Conference held at the Seattle Center last month. There is also a speech and interview with Helen Sobell, whose husband was a co-defendant in the Rosenberg conspiracy case. Other programs deal with the J.P. Stevens boycott, violence against women, and the Alaska d-2 hearings.

On Friday nights KRAB begins a 10-part documentary series on the life and music of Igor Stravinsky. Locally recorded concerts include one by Hedzoleh Sounds, a West African highlife band, and a duet with Gary Peacock and Al Hood. Two of the many live studio concerts are with multi-talented hammer dulcimet(?) Phil Boulding and the flamenco duo of Sylvia Aguilera and David Tamarin. Ethnomusicologist Philip Schuyler presents a program of his own field recordings made in Morocco and Adam Woog interviews New York avant-garde composer Laurie Anderson.

There are many other shows of interest: Wende Wood's program on "The Unborn Baby," a Thai shadow play, narrated by Allan Swenson; Jacques Townes' celebration of Bastille Day, Paul O'Connor's program on Mormon revelation, "Close Encounters of the Fourth Kind;" the live broadcast of a karate tournament, Jennifer Hall's interview with a person in the process of changing genders, Scott Wilson's "Mosquitoes and the Class Struggle" and more.

Also, if you think you are interested in participating in KRAB's repertory of reading and spoken work productions, we urge you to call and ask for Glenn Weiss or one of the program directors.

Tonight, the first Bop Stop to devote an entire program to Cannonball Adderly, emphasizing the first half of his recording career, before he got into electric funk.

9:00 HELEN SOBELL: THE FALL AND RISE OF THE RIGHT WING IN AMERICA

June 18th marked the 25th anniversary of the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg on charges of conspiracy to deliver atomic secrets to Russia. Helen Sobell, who in addition to being a distinguished poet and mathematical engineer, is married to Morton Sobell, a co-defendant with the Rosenbergs who was sentenced to 30 years in prison on the same conspiracy charges. She was in Seattle recently and spoke on the connections between the McCarthy era and the present rise of the right wing (as seen in Init. 13, SB 1437, etc.), and the roots of such periodic increases of threats to civil liberties.

10:00 INTERVIEW WITH HELEN SOBELL

Carolyn Canafax interview with Helen Sobell on, among other things, her struggles to free her husband, Morton, during his 19 years of imprisonment and her efforts to keep alive the issues surrounding her husband's and the Rosenberg's trial.

10:30 J.P. STEVENS BOYCOTT - STRUGGLE FOR JUSTICE

Throughout history textile and garment workers have often taken the lead in struggles for better working conditions and they continue their struggle today. J.P. Stevens is the 2nd largest textile company in the U.S and the number 1 violator of the National Labor Relations Act. While textile workers organize in the factories, a national boycott of J.P. Stevens products is underway. This program will give background information and the present situation with the boycott both nationally and locally. Produced by Priscilla Lippincott.

9:30 PHILOSOPHY IN THE STREET

Francesco Siqueros continues his series of philosophical investigations using the reflections of persons unencumbered by philosophical concepts or terminology.

10:00 CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE FOURTH KIND: MORMON REVELATION

Several weeks ago the president of the Mormon Church received a direct revelation from God - black males could now be accepted into the lay priesthood, a status previously accorded only white males. This revelation came at a time of increasing pressure for the church to change its racial policies and provided tremendous relief for many church members who felt discomfort and embarrassment at those policies. (A similar revelation occurred when Utah's statehood was being held up by the Mormon practice of polygamy - the appropriate revelation was shortly forthcoming which banned the practice.) P-I columnist Paul O'Connor, through interviews and commentary examines this most recent revelation. Is this a revelation of convenience, or is this the hand of God at work?

- 9:30 WHEN I HEAR THE WORD CULTURE, I REACH FOR MY SEX PISTOLS ALBUM
An exploration of boredom as a contemporary urban social phenomenon, recorded during a performance at 84 Seneca St. on June 3, 1978. Is technology replacing emotion, as sci-fi writers have predicted for so long, and as Muzak and disco would have us believe? A great deal of preparation went into a performance that was quite conscious of its ephemerality. Therefore, it is only appropriate that a portion of it be presented on one of the most ephemeral of media - the radio.
- 10:00 CHANGING OVER
A conversation with a 35-year-old sociology professor who is undergoing the process of changing genders from male to female. Janice has just begun the hormonal treatment and is starting to subtly change her appearance, occasionally wearing skirts and jewelry. ### 8:00 SOFT ENERGY PATHS: A LECTURE BY AMORY LOVINS

Lovins, nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize, believes society is at the crossroads of two energy futures: the "hard" path toward continued fossil-fuel and nuclear generation or the "soft" path to a society run on energy from the sun, wind, garbage, agricultural and forest wastes, and supported by an aggressive conservation ethic. Lovins has become a tireless missionary for the "soft" path and has injected arguments about "the energy question" with the discussion on the quality of life, striving to prove that economic and social well-being are linked and that both are threatened by the present structure of energy use.

9:00 A HENRY MILLER COLLAGE

Mike Acker presents excerpts from Miller's mid-30's novel, Tropic of Capricorn.

9:30 IGOR STRAVINSKY: THE MAN AND HIS MUSIC

This is the first in a ten-part documentary series on the life and work of one of the most important composers of the 20th century. The initial program, STRAVINSKY THE MAN, examines the personality of an extremely complex man and musician through a series of recollections by his closest friends and associates. Along with a general discussion of his habits and idiosyncracies, his intellectual and spiritual make-up, the program attempts to partially disentangle the private man from perhaps the most complex public image of any modern composer. Works heard in the program include The Fantasy for Large Orchestra, Fireworks, the Concerto in D for Violin and Orchestra, and Symphony of Psalms.
